GEN. PAUL HAS NEW PROJECTS UNDER STUDY

Relocation of athletic facilities, construction of a Living Science Building and Art and Drama Building and erection of a new dormitory were among the plans discussed by Gen. Willard S. Paul, who will retire as president of Gettysburg College on September 1. These projects were described by President Paul in an informal review of his five years at Gettysburg and the proposals planned but still incomplete.

Viewing the college campus and construction from the viewpoint of maximum use of the facilities, President Paul said that the campus community might roughly be divided into three areas: A work area, living area and a recreation area. These units, he felt, should be grouped together.

With the construction of the new Physical Education building, other campus changes seemed desirable. To place all the recreation and physical education area together, President Paul's plans called for a new Memorial Football Field and track near the site of the Ira Plank baseball diamond which in turn would be moved to the area off the Biglerville Rd. in the vicinity of the tennis courts and soccer field.

USE NEW FACILITIES

These changes would locate all the recreation facilities on the outskirts of the campus, making available the facilities of the

Radar Teams Are Assigned

HARRISBURG (AP) — Commissioner Frank G. McCartney today assigned 10 state troopers, all of them veterans, to radar teams throughout the state starting Sept. 1.

That is the day Pennsylvania's radar law becomes effective in the start of a rigid crackdown to prevent death on the highways from speeding.

McCartney said each man has been "thoroughly trained in a week-long course in radar theory and practice" at the State Police Academy in nearby Hershey.

Each of the 16 state police troops in the Commonwealth will have one radar team of four men, plus two relief men, except the Pennsylvania Turnpike troop which will have two teams.

The radar law contains a tolerance provision of 5 miles-per-hour. Thus no arrests can be made through radar timing unless a motorist is clocked at 6 MPH above the posted speed limit.

The devices may be used only on state highways and the turnpike.

BEST SOLDIER SELECTED IN RESERVE UNIT

Sp-4 Leroy Martin, McKnightstown, was announced Tuesday as the "best soldier of the year" while Sgt. James H. Brady, Hanover, won the "best noncommissioned officer of the year" award given by Company D, 1st Battle Group, 313th Infantry, the local Army Reserve unit.

Both were selected by vote of officers and noncommissioned officers of the unit. Specialist Martin has been a member of the local unit since December, 1958, and is first cook. Sgt. Brady, who came into the outfit as a corporal two years ago after two years of Regular Army duty, is assistant communications sergeant. Both selections were made on the basis of the entire year's service with the outfit.

Captain Robert W. Black said the trophies are awarded annually to the "best sergeant" and "best soldier" in "recognition of outstanding meritorious service by individual members of the unit."

NEW RECRUIT

At its drill Tuesday evening at its training center on Queen St., the unit gained a new recruit with the swearing in of William Thurston Bucher, 18, Aspers R. 1, a graduate of Biglerville High School, who enlisted under the plan which will provide six months of service in the Army followed by service in the Reserve. Bucher said he plans to go to college and decided to take care of his military obligation by the six months' active duty, plus Reserve service plan. Under the program, after his six months of active training, he will drill weekly with the Reserve while continuing his education. Captain Black said the unit is seeking to increase its membership and "anyone interested may visit the training center here on Tuesday night or contact him, or Lieutenants John D. Bream, Richard L. Darr, Belford R. Thompson Jr. or William E. Troxell."

Castro Robs Fellow Cubans In Exchange Of Currency

By JOSE MARIA ORLANDO HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government will return a maximum of only 10,000 pesos each to most Cubans who turned in large sums during the currency exchange he ordered over the weekend.

The prime minister announced in a TV address Tuesday night that cash turned in above that amount has been confiscated because it was hoarded in violation of a law issued in May.

Castro said an exception is being made for old persons and cripples who would be allowed to draw up to 20,000 pesos.

PESO SHRINKS

The Cuban government values the peso officially at $1, its value before Castro revolutionized the economic system. It is worth about 20 cents on free money markets abroad.

The government last weekend suddenly closed Cuba's borders to all travelers and ordered all Cu-

TRAVEL GROUP DESIGNATED TO RECEIVE FUNDS

Receipt of a letter from William Davlin, secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, designating the Gettysburg Travel Council as an agency to receive state funds for tourist promotion was reported Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Travel Council at the West St. branch of the Gettysburg National Bank.

President Kenneth Dick explained that the Travel Council now will make quarterly reports to the state of expenditures for tourist promotion and receive reimbursement of half of certain authorized expenditures from the state. Reimbursement is provided for a number of promotional activities, while no reimbursement is available for certain administrative expenses of the council, Dick said.

Thirty-five have paid memberships for the 1961-62 year during the current membership drive, according to reports at the meeting. President Dick said it is hoped to complete the membership campaign by September in order to outline plans for the coming year.

SEEK COURTESY CARDS

After receiving a number of complaints from tourists who were given tickets for overtime parking, the council voted to write Burgess Wilbur L. Plank urging adoption by the town of a plan used elsewhere by which tourists are given courtesy cards calling their attention to the violation but not imposing a fine.

Reports from the information center showed more than 10,000 parties, representing 30,000 people, registered at the office during June and June.

In answer to complaints made by local residents, the Travel Council pointed out that the rates charged by all local motels which are members of the Travel Council are posted in the Travel Council information office for the benefit of tourists and all of the units that are approved by the American Automobile Association have their rates listed in the publications of that organization. A comparison was presented of motel rates elsewhere with motel rates here which showed the local rates to be lower for comparable quality than in a number of tourist centers and higher than in some sections.

PLAN HARVEST FESTIVAL

It was added that the fact that many motels in the area are filled by noon or early afternoon during the tourist season would indicate that the tourists themselves do not consider the rates too high.

The Travel Council voted to cooperate with the Adams County Fruitgrowers in a harvest festival, details of which are to be planned by the fruitgrowers this evening at a meeting in the Arendtsville National Bank.

With the mimeographed "walking tour" guide of the town proving popular with visitors, the council voted to have additional copies made for distribution.

A report on the information center showed air conditioning has been installed there and shelving has been placed in closets for storage of travel literature.

LIONS CLUB OF CASHTOWN TO DEVELOP PARK

The Cashtown Lions Club is seeking to establish a picnic area for the community, according to reports at Tuesday evening's meeting of the club in Trostle's Restaurant, near McKnightstown, on the Lincoln Highway.

President Clark Spence appointed Harry Biesecker as chairman of the committee to seek out a wooded spot within "a mile or so" of Cashtown to be turned into a picnic grounds which can be used by the Lions for summer meetings and by the public generally.

Reports were presented by President Spence and Secretary Glenn Musselman on a district governor's meeting held August 6 at the Chalet in Dillsburg. They told the group that District Governor J. Louis Schultz, Hanover, has set a goal for District 14-C of 1,000 new members and 15 new clubs during the coming year. The district now has 112 clubs. They also announced that the district governor will be the speaker at the meeting of the Cashtown Lions August 22 at Trostle's Restaurant.

Secretary Musselman reported on a contest to be held by District 14-C in which awards will be given to the clubs having the best bulletins and obtaining the best publicity.

A letter of appreciation was read from Attorney Richard A. Brown for the $300 donation by the club to the Warner Hospital surgical floor fund.

A $10 donation toward paying for the buses used to transport children to the state police rodeo was voted.

President Spence offered a "free steak dinner" to any member securing two or more new members by October.

PREFER JAIL TO LOSING CAR

Two Gardeners R. 1 brothers told Judge Robert Lee Jacobs, Carlisle, Tuesday they preferred to spend 30 days in jail rather than sell their 10-year-old automobile to repay area restaurant owners for $75 worth of stolen soft drink bottles.

Ralph J. 20, and Clarence K. Smyth, 19, appeared in Cumberland sentence court on August 1 to plead guilty to the theft of soft drink bottles from Carlisle and Mt. Holly Springs restaurants.

At that time, Judge Jacobs gave them their choice: sell the car and make restitution or spend 30 days in the Cumberland County prison.

After thinking it over a few hours, the brothers appeared at the jail and committed themselves. They appeared for formal sentencing Tuesday.

"Kids today hate to lose their driving privileges and hair," Asst. Cumberland District Attorney Richard Snelbaker commented after the court session. "These guys have lost their hair now, but will still have their car when they get out."

The boys have both received close prison haircuts.

ASSESSMENT OF TRAILERS IS PROTESTED

The Adams County commissioners this morning were agreed with M. J. Smith, Mt. Pleasant Twp. trailer camp owner, that trailer camps are a problem when it comes to taxation, but they could only tell Smith to inform the 15 residents of his camp that they will have to appear in September for a hearing if they think the assessments placed on their trailers are too high.

Smith spent nearly an hour with the commissioners protesting that the assessments placed on the trailers in his camp are generally too high—some of them half of what the trailers cost the owner.

He described trailers as having a heavy depreciation; said some people look down on trailer occupants when "trailers are a lot better homes than a lot of other people have in the county" and "Gettysburg itself couldn't meet the requirements that are set up for trailer camps." He described trailer camp residents as teachers, students, construction workers, salesmen, inspectors, and retired persons "who are among the best you will find in any community."

RELIED ON JUDGMENT

The commissioners told Smith that all they had to go by when the notices of assessment were sent out were the estimates of value placed on the trailers by the assessor. Henry Hersh said the assessor claimed that he had been unable to obtain "much cooperation" when he sought to find the actual value of the trailers and thus had to rely on his own best judgment.

Girl, 5, Kills Sister With Toilet Seat Cover

WALTON, N.Y. (AP)—A 5-year-old girl clubbed her younger sister to death with a toilet-seat cover less than a month after the younger child had been found crammed in an earthenware crock, a district attorney says.

Dist. Atty. Richard Farley said Patricia Kirk may have been jealous of her 2½-year-old sister, Lois, or have held a grievance against her. Lois' crying often annoyed Patricia, he said.

Lois died in a hospital Sunday, nine hours after her parents found her unconscious in a bed she shared with Patricia and a brother, Wesley, 3½, in the family's trailer home in this Catskill Mountain community.

Patricia admitted hitting Lois on the head with a toilet-seat cover—she called it "a pretty stick" —sometime between 11 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Sunday, Farley said.

On July 18, he said, Patricia apparently took Lois from the trailer to a nearby shed and either placed or helped her into a 20-gallon crock. When Lois was found by a neighbor about two hours later, her head was covered with blankets and a suitcase.

The district attorney said Patricia had a "wild imagination," and was "very mixed up emotionally."

The child seldom talked to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kirk, and would confide only in her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ezra Burgher of Oneonta, with whom she now is staying, Farley said.

FEW FALLOUT SHELTERS FOR FAMILIES HERE; NEW INTEREST

There are probably "less than 25" family unit bomb shelters in Adams County but interest in them has taken a sharp upturn since President Kennedy stressed the importance of Civil Defense preparedness in his address to the nation late in July.

The estimate that there are less than 25 family fallout shelters in the county came from the county's Civil Defense director, William G. Weaver, who is "very pleased" to see growing numbers of citizens taking an interest in basement shelters in homes.

CD Director Weaver is setting a good example for when he recently built a new home on Howard Ave. He put extra block partitions in its basement where he is equipping and installing a full-fledged family shelter.

BELOW U.S. AVERAGE

Mr. Weaver estimates that more than 1,000 information bulletins on "family shelters for protection against radioactive fallout" have been distributed in the county—many of them at the South Mountain Fair last fall. The new burst of interest in the subject has brought requests for more of the bulletins.

With "less than 25" shelters in the county, Adams County folk are far behind the national average on fallout shelters, according to the office of Civil Defense mobilization.

An OGD survey late in July showed that more than one million of the nation's 50 million households have quietly built fallout shelters. "They seem rare because most people are a little embarrassed about them," one OGD official noted. "They're not yet fashionable, you know," he added.

If the national average were applied to Adams County, there

NEW OXFORD'S CENTENNIAL EVENT SUNDAY

Further plans for the centennial observance honoring the departure of Company I, 87th Pennsylvania Volunteers, to be held Sunday afternoon at New Oxford, were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Civil War Centennial Commission in the court house.

Arthur Weaver, New Oxford, chairman of the observance to be held at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, said a parade from the Sons of Veterans Armory to New Oxford's square will open the observance. At the square the program will include music by a band, a talk by Lt. Col. James Snelbaker, U.S. Air Force Reserve, and a calling of the roll of the members of Company I by County Superintendent of Schools C. P. Keefer.

The program will include the raising of a 34-starred flag on the flag pole in the New Oxford square. Approximately 40 persons in Civil War costume will take part in the program.

HOME GUARD UNIT

W. Clayton Jester, chairman of the county commission, praised Weaver for the "outstanding program arranged" and urged public attendance at Sunday's event. Company I began its existence in May, 1861, as the "New Oxford National Guards," a home guard unit formed by Thaddeus Stevens Pfeiffer, 20-year-old son of the Dr. Pfeiffer who operated the Collegiate Institute at New Oxford. In August 1861 when the youthful captain learned a regiment was to be formed for federal service at York he enlisted additional members into the "National Guards" and the unit moved to York where it became Company I. The company served through the Civil War. Captain Pfeiffer was fatally wounded in the battle of Cold Harbor June 3, 1864, and buried in the New Oxford cemetery beside his brother, John Theodore Pfeiffer, regimental bugler of the 202nd Pennsylvania Volunteers, who was fatally wounded during the battle of White Plains in 1864.

WOMAN WON'T GET NEW TRIAL

A Thurmont, Md., woman's motion for a new trial in York court on a charge of conspiracy to do an unlawful act involving falsification of a birth certificate was refused Monday by Judge George W. Atkins, who directed Mrs. Frances Leatherman to appear for sentencing August 28.

The defendant contended that since the state did not prove express agreement with Ruth O. Rinker, Hampton, mother of the child and star witness for the commonwealth, as to the birth certificate, the evidence did not sustain the charge.

She also claimed she was not guilty because she did not know information supplied the Rinker woman, who was indicted on the same charges and pleaded guilty, was to be used to falsify the birth certificate or that the furnishing of information for that purpose was a criminal act.

After citing Superior Court rulings that the Commonwealth is not required to prove express agreement, the judge observed that Mrs. Leatherman had offered use of her name "all the way through" and that she received the certificate showing the surname Leatherman from the mother at the hospital before leaving with the baby.

"There is no evidence this came as a surprise to her," wrote the judge, "or that she took any steps to correct the apparent error. From all the evidence, the jury was justified in arriving at the conclusion that she was aware of the use to which this false information was to be put."

Occupation Tax Levies Condemned

At the request of a number of constituents, Assemblyman Francis Worley has introduced in the House at Harrisburg a resolution condemning the "unfair use of occupational taxes by local governments in Pennsylvania" and urging local taxing bodies "to refrain from the imposition of such taxes."

Declaring that "the assessments on occupations at the present time bear no relationship to the actual earning capacity of the individual assessed," the resolution holds that the result is that "certain people in each community are burdened with an unfair share of the community tax load."

ASSESSMENT

Smith agreed that trailers have a high original cost but "depreciate fast" and gave the commissioners a list of actual values of the trailers in his camp. He also urged that persons who live only a few months in a county should have to pay for only the few months they were there. He noted one of his campers, now retired, spends the summer here and the winter in Florida.

The commissioners said they agreed there should be some way to get the taxes during the time a person is here.

GRANT TOWNSHIP AID

Other visitors to the commissioners' meeting at the courthouse this morning included a group seeking funds for cemetery maintenance. The commissioners told them they appreciated the efforts to keep the cemeteries in good shape. They said the state does not allow the county to spend any money for such purposes, but added that the state law permits township supervisors to allocate funds for cemetery upkeep if the supervisors wish to do so.

County aid totaling $2,124.25 was authorized by Tyrone Twp.

A letter was received from the engineer listing the date for start of construction of the Kohler's Mill bridge as August 14 and setting the date by which the work must be finished as December 13.

Borough police today were continuing an investigation into a burglary at the Redding Supply Store last week. The officers are searching for approximately $250 in cash and some checks taken from a safe at the store apparently during a brief period when store employees were in a section of the store from which the safe could not be seen.

Proxmire Ends Marathon Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, (D-Wis.), ended a marathon protest in the Senate against the nomination of Lawrence J. O'Connor Jr. to the Federal Power Commission at 11:05 a.m. EST today.

At the time, the Wisconsin senator had held the floor for 26 hours and 9 minutes since he began Monday. He had several breaks, however, when other senators spoke.

Proxmire kept the Senate in session around the clock since 9 a.m. EST Tuesday.

Senate Democrat Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana took the floor immediately to say that Proxmire had not been conducting a filibuster.

"I think he has performed a service and has acted wholly and entirely within the rights of a senator," Mansfield said.

New Oxford To "Crack Down" On Offenders

New Oxford Borough Council, at its meeting Monday evening, instructed Police Chief H. S. Bentzel to "crack down" on those creating disturbances in and around Center Square.

Council approved the selection of William Staub, New Oxford, as the town clock custodian at an annual salary of $100. Staub replaced G. W. Sadler, custodian for many years, who resigned due to ill health. Sadler was voted a bonus of $20 in recognition of his long and faithful service.

Orders to Bentzel grew out of the parking problem in the Center Square area. He reported that cars are parked on the west side of the square from 8 until midnight by teenagers. Parking regulations now call for two-hour parking in that area from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. According to the chief's report, teenagers have been causing disturbances and Sunday evening Bentzel was compelled to arrest two of them.

Councilmen agreed that the chief should "crack down" on the offenders. A survey will be made of the parking situation to curb unlimited parking after 6 p.m.

GIRL SCOUT REQUEST

Mrs. William Millar, local Girl Scout leader, asked council to make some place available where the Girl Scouts could meet and suggested the old fire hall. About two years ago council entertained the idea of converting the fire hall into a borough building, but the matter was voted down due to expenses involved and limited parking.

INCREASED RATES

The matter of increasing garbage collection rates was reported by Councilman Lloyd Stock Jr. He reported that New Oxford rates were to be increased and questioned the legality of the ordinance which the council had signed into law a year ago. However, it later developed that the ordinance was advertised the required number of times.

Burgess Guy Staub in his report stated that the two pumps presently operating at the water plant were not adequate. He called attention to the fact that when the pumps were installed one was to be used only for stand-by service. He claims that now both must be used to pump enough raw water to the filtering beds to supply the demand and larger pumps are needed. Council referred this to the engineer.

The street committee reported that curbing is completed on Hollywood Ave. except for a small stretch where a pole must be removed. Curbing is now proceeding on Carlisle St., the committee stated.

The finance committee was granted authorization to transfer $7,500 back to the sewer-water fund, which had been loaned to the borough fund some months ago to take care of current expenses.

The borough office will be closed from August 15 to 22 to permit office employees to take a vacation. The September meeting of council will be held September 11 due to Labor Day.

The meeting was in charge of H. A. Jones with Councilmen Lloyd Stock Jr., C. P. Keefer, H. S. Griffin and Glenn Alwine in attendance. Also present were Burgess Guy Staub, Secretary Vesta Lings, Police Chief Bentzel and Borough Manager Bevenour.

Council instructed the property committee to check the possibilities of repairing and remodeling the street floor of the building.

Chief Bentzel reported that the condition of the sidewalks, particularly on the east side of Hanover Street from the square to High Street, was deplorable. The secretary was instructed to notify property owners to remedy the situation.

SLAYBAUGH COMPLAINT

Council heard a complaint from Charles Slaybaugh concerning the dumping of garbage and other refuse in a container in the rear of the shoe repair shop that he owns. Investigation disclosed that refuse and garbage has been strewn outside the container. The police chief was instructed to have the container removed and to prevent further dumping or burning of paper. The area involved is owned by the borough and after the completion of the new post office there the area will be black-topped.

Councilman H. A. Jones said that a communication had been received by council from the State Highway Dept. that Carlisle Street had been tentatively approved at the new width of 46-feet but that council was advised "if curbs are placed by the borough in accordance with your plan, when the department proposes to reconstruct the street, it may be necessary for some of the curbing to be removed due to a very bad drainage condition which exists at the intersection with Berlin Road." The communication also referred to a similar drainage condition at Golden Lane.

A discussion developed concerning an undue amount of surface water getting into the sanitary sewer system. The borough manager, Lawrence Bevenour, when questioned about spouts still connected to the sewer, replied that "there probably were two or three still connected."

The ceremony was performed

1,055 In Adams On Relief Roster:

Two relief applications were received in Adams county during the week ending August 1. At the close of the week there were 219

cases, representing 1,055 persons, on the county relief rolls. Expenditures for direct relief amounted to $1,989.18. For the week ending

July 25 a total of $1,295.93 was expended for relief in the county.

Twelve cases were closed and three were opened in the county

during the period. Of the 12

closed, nine received private employment, one works program

employment and two for other reasons. Loss of private employment caused the opening of the three cases.

A net reduction of 1,876 cases in the state-wide direct relief load was reported by the state emergency relief board for the final week of July. On August 1 a total of 167,993 cases representing 346,048 persons remained on the relief rolls.

Boy Is Cut In Car Collision:

Richard McClell, aged two and a half years, son of Mr. and Mrs.

James W. McClell, Fairfield, received lacerations of the face and arms in an automobile col-o'clock at the intersection of the Ortanna-Cashtown road with the Lincoln highway.

The child was a passenger in a car being driven east on the Lincoln highway when it collided with the machine of Lawrence

Lochbaum, Ortanna R. 1. The accident occurred as Lochbaum was driving west and attempted a left turn into the Ortanna road.

He drove in front of the McClell machine and the right side of his car was struck. Damage to the two automobiles was estimated at about $40.

DEFLECTION OF THOUGHT

Most of us find it is largely through our ability to deflect our thoughts from all which depresses and destroys that we are able to face life bravely and take up what comes without complaint.How often we are caught unaware in the deepest depression — worrying over what has not happened and which rarely does.We so much lack buoyancy. We pray for the sunshine when there are only clouds and rainfall. But when the clouds and rainfall are gone that prayed-for sunshine fails to clear our gloom.The pleasurable soul depends upon the ability of its owner to rise above circumstances, and to will a path far from the irritating and inevitable.Try to actually be what you want to be instead of moaning over the fact that you are not what you want to be — and see what will happen!No man ever reached a mountain top without first putting his eyes upon its summit.There are those who seem to delight in dwelling upon the morbid tendencies of their nature instead of flooding them with an antidote that might clear them away forever.Happiness in this world comes about largely through the ability to turn one's thoughts away from the unpleasant, discouraging and impossible, and attempting to do to the very limits all of which one seems capable.And no man ever knows how capable he really is until he has tapped his resources to their depths.Tennyson left us an inspiring couplet:
"Oh, well for him whose will is strong;
He suffers, but he will not suffer long."No one ever became discouraged by looking up at the stars!Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk

For much I am willing to stand,

I'm willing to do all she asks,

I'm in her bad graces just now;

At a tea that she's taken me

"Let me see, just whose

FULBRIGHT'S

SENATE SEAT

CALLED SAFE

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen.

Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said

today Republicans would be wasting their time if they tried to defeat on Fulbright, the chairman

D-Ark., next year.

Republicans and some Democrats have been putting political heat on Fulbright, the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations

Committee, for a memorandum

they contend influenced a Pentagon directive "muzzling" generals and admirals on foreign policy matters.

Fulbright protested to Secretary of Defense Robert S. Mc-

Namara about military sponsorship of public forums featuring what the senator called "radical right wing speakers."

WHY BEAT FULBRIGHT?

Asked if he thought an attempt was being made in the criticisms of him to provide ammunition for a prospective 1962 senatorial opponent, Fulbright said he attributed no such motive to Sen.

Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., his

chief Democratic critic.

"But I hear reports that the Republicans may have some idea of trying to duplicate in Arkansas

what they did in Texas," Fulbright said.

Sen. John G. Tower, a Republican, won a special election to fill the seat vacated by Lyndon

B. Johnson when he became vice president.

Goldwater, who heads the GOP

Senatorial Campaign Committee and who helped Tower in Texas,

scoffed at the idea that Republicans are gunning for Fulbright.

Goldwater has joined in the criticism of the Pentagon directive.

"Why should we want to beat

Fulbright?" he asked. "We'd just get another Democrat. We don't have anything against Bill and we certainly haven't got any chance to elect a Republican to the Senate in Arkansas."

floor again.

The Historical Preservation

Committee Tuesday approved the bill for the second time. It had been returned to the committee

June 26 because Sen. Thomas

Ehrigood, R-Lebanon, protested he hadn't been consulted before the measure was introduced.

The tract, little more than an acre in size, would be donated by the Bethlehem Minerals Co. It was the site of a forge that produced cannons in the Revolutionary War.

"YOUR PENSIVE EYES"

No need to say I love you ...
no need to hold me tight ...
for in your pensive eyes I see
... true love's immortal light ...
no need to bring me treasures ... or strew my path with flowers ... just the knowing you are there ... will bring me happy hours ... love is told best with silence ...
words cannot half explain ...
the soul-deep tender meaning
... soft warm eyes contain
... eyes can tell a story ...
wonderful and grand ... they can say I love you ... and I understand ... so let me look into your eyes ... therein I will find ... the promise and fulfillment ... which lingers in your mind.

Yankees Win In 10th As Tigers Beat Chicago 3-0; Orioles, Kansas City Split

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees, with Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris once again held without a home run, won their sixth in a row and retained a three-game lead in the American League race Tuesday night by beating the Los Angeles Angels 5-4 in 10 innings. Maris' single broke it up after Yogi Berra's home run had given the Yanks a 4-4 tie.

Second place Detroit kept the pace by beating the Chicago White Sox 3-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Jim Bunning.

Third-place Baltimore split a two-night pair with Kansas City, beating the A's 7-0 on the three-hit pitching of Steve Barber in the first game, then losing 6-5. Cleveland defeated Washington 6-5 in 10 innings, and the Minnesota Twins, after losing eight in a row, beat Boston 6-5.

BARBER'S 6TH SHUTOUT

The Yankees, now 7-0 vs. the Angels at Yankee Stadium, managed just four hits off Eli Grba and losing reliever Art Fowler (5-5) before Tony Kubek opened the 10th with a double and came across on Maris' single. New York collected two hits in the first inning, one a two-run double by Elston Howard, but didn't get another until Berra unloaded his 15th home run in the sixth inning. Luis Arroyo (10-3) was the winner, striking out five in his three innings.

Bunning (13-8) didn't walk a man and struck out four while packing away his eighth victory in his last 10 decisions. Norm Cash provided all the slugging support Bunning needed with his 28th home run in the fourth inning off Frank Baumann (8-9).

Barber gave up nothing but singles while running up a 7-0 career record against Kansas City. It was his sixth shutout of the year, tops in the majors, and his third over the A's. Bob Shaw (7-10) was the loser as Jackie Brandt and Hank Foiles each drove in two runs in a 15-hit barrage.

HOMER BEATS WILHELM

Kansas City then beat Baltimore for only the second time in 13 tries when Haywood Sullivan hit a two-out, three-run home run in the nightcap ninth off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm (8-7). The A's also ended Skinny Brown's shutout streak at 36 innings with a three-run fifth, Norm Bass (6-7) was the winner although giving up three home runs—two by Brandt and Jim Gentile's 32nd.

Cleveland came from behind with a four-run eighth triggered by Chuck Esgasian's home run and then scored the tie-breaking run in the 10th on catcher Gene Green's second passed ball of the inning. Wynn Hawkins (6-8) was the winner and Dave Sisler (2-6) the loser, both in relief.

Camilo Pascual (9-12) struck out 10, allowed just six hits and drove in three runs for the Twins against Bill Monbouquette (8-11). Homers scored Boston's runs—a solo by Don Buddin and an inside-the-park shot that gave Gary Geiger his first major league grand slam.

Skorich Platoons Eagles' Runners

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Coach Nick Skorich of the Philadelphia Eagles, who plans to place more emphasis on the club's running game this year, plans to alternate five backs at left halfback and fullback.

Skorich announced Tuesday that he would use Billy Barnes, Ted Dean, Clarence Peaks, Tim Brown and Theron Saap alternately in an effort to make the most of their speed and drive.

The move, Skorich feels, will mean a fresh back in the game at all times.

Over the past few years Peaks has been the regular fullback and Barnes the left halfback. The other halfback position is occupied by Tommy McDonald, who actually uses it as a slot back position for running pass patterns.

HIT BATSMAN SKIPS GRUDGE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jack Sanford isn't mad at Don Cardwell and Cardwell isn't mad at Sanford.

That's what they say, anyway. It sure looked as though they were Tuesday night, though, when Sanford and the San Francisco Giants beat Cardwell and the Chicago Cubs 8-1.

Cardwell (9-10) left the game in the sixth inning after he was hit on the back of the head by a pitch thrown by Sanford.

Sanford (7-6) said after the game that the pitch "got away from me. He was the first batter of the inning and I didn't warm up enough. I wasn't trying to hit him."

Cardwell, who was asked in the Cub dressing room whether he thought Sanford had thrown at him, shook his head and grunted, "nope."

Tuesday Stars
Pitching—Steve Barber, Orioles, blanked A's on three singles 3-0 for sixth shutout, tops in majors.

Hitting — Smoky Burgess, Pirates, went 5-for-5 and drove in four runs with four singles and a homer in first game of 10-2 and 3-2 sweep over Phils.

Topper's feat was a league record at bats) — Cash, Detroit, .363; Howard, New York, .362.

STUART ROOTS FOR HITTERS TO TOP RUTH

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dick Stuart, who clouted 66 home runs in the minors, is rooting for either Mickey Mantle or Roger Maris to break Babe Ruth's major league record of 60 circuits.

"I'd like to see one of them do it," said the strapping first baseman of the National League's Pittsburgh Pirates.

Stuart, however, wants the two New York Yankees' sluggers to know that the closer they get to Ruth's fabulous slugging mark, the greater the pressure is going to be.

"At least," he remembered, "that's the way it was with me."

Back in 1936, Stuart, then a strong-armed 23-year-old, clouted 66 home runs for Pittsburgh's Lincoln farm team in the Western League. At the time there was national attention focused on the feat although few realized Dick was shooting for another record—and missed.

He had a chance to break organized baseball's all-time homer high of 72, set by a forgotten Joe Bauman in the Class C, Texas-New Mexico League years before. He hit 60 homers in the first 100 games, but only 6 in the last 41.

Game Protested By Littlestown

Littlestown baseball officials have filed a letter of protest with Robert Krichen, South Penn League president, as the result of the disputed umpires' decision which took place Monday evening when Littlestown lost to Fairfield 3-2 at Littlestown.

In the letter a request is made the game be resumed in the top of the eighth inning with two out and none on base with a count of 2-2 on Eddie Spence, Fairfield catcher.

That was the point at which a dispute arose Monday. Spence hit a dribbler along the first base line which the base umpire indicated was foul. Littlestown players made no attempt to field the ball. However, the plate umpire ruled the ball fair and Spence safe. Later he scored what was to prove the winning run on a passed ball.

Eastern League

Undated Eastern League
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pennant fever ran high in Springfield today so manager Andy Gilbert hung out the quarantine sign to restrain his Eastern League Giants from the old bugaboo, overconfidence.

The Giants had good reason for being confident after Tuesday night's 5-0 victory over Williamsport on the strength of Roger Sinner's five-hitter.

The victory was the third straight over the second-place Grays and the Giants fifth in a row, hiking their EL lead to nine games, biggest bulge this year.

Third-place Binghamton dropped a pair to Lancaster, 5-2 and 5-4, to fall 9½ games off the pace. In the only other game, Johnstown defeated Reading 7-6.

Emmitsburg Little League

Yankee Pat Topper whaled three homers and Pitcher Martin Williams one as the Yanks walloped the league-leading Red Sox 18-10 Tuesday evening in Emmitsburg Little League play. The Cards moved into first place as a result of the Red Sox loss. Harry Hahn homered for the losers.

Topper's feat was a league record at bats) — Cash, Detroit, .363; Howard, New York, .362.

Runs—Mantle, New York, 101; Maris, New York, 93.

Runs batted in—Gentile, Baltimore, and Maris, New York, 100.

Hits — B. Robinson, Baltimore, and Cash, Detroit, 131.

Littlestown, East Berlin To Clash Tonight

Another large crowd is expected at the Little League field tonight when Littlestown (1-1) opposes East Berlin (0-1) in the Adams County Little League tournament.

"Tonight's winner will meet Fairfield (1-1) here next Monday evening while the loser will drop from the double-elimination tourney."

On Friday evening Gettysburg and Upper Adams, each unbeaten with 2-0 records, clash.

All tournament games start at 6 o'clock.

Fairfield Little League

Steve Weikert, outstanding second baseman on the all-star team, turned his talents to pitching Tuesday evening and today is wondering what it takes to pitch a non-hitter, as he tossed the Pirates to a 13-0 win over the Yankees.

Weikert tossed five innings without giving up a hit. In the sixth inning he retired the first two batters and had a 2-2 count on shortstop Joe Lobingier. Lobingier then took the fifth pitch and drilled it to right field to break up the "little guy's" no-hitter. Through the entire ball game Weikert allowed three men to reach base. Jerry Ruth drew the only walk in the third inning and Bruce Miller was hit by a pitched ball in fifth. Weikert struck out 10 batters.

Weikert was also the mainstay in the batting as he went three for four at the plate and scored three runs. He lashed out a single, double and triple.

The Pirates scored four runs in the bottom of the first on walks to Stonieser and Dick, a single by Weikert and a long triple by Don Ebersole. The winners scored four more in the second and five in the third.

GENE MAUCH AND MURTAUGH HURT IN MELEE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Manager Gene Mauch of Philadelphia today was nursing a black left eye and his counterpart, Danny Murtaugh of Pittsburgh, a spike wound of the neck after the two acted as peacemakers in a wild melee between players of the two clubs.

The brawl broke out Tuesday night during the sixth inning of a two-night doubleheader when catcher Hal Smith of the Pirates put an extra hard tag on Phillies' outfielder Tony Gonzalez who tried to score from second on a single by Clay Dalrymple.

Smith fell on Gonzalez and both players came up with fists swinging. Players, managers and coaches from both teams swarmed into the field and at least seven different fights erupted.

Umpire Frank Dascoli ordered three policemen stationed at each dugout until the end of the game to prevent a further outbreak.

After the game, which the Pirates won 3-2 after taking the opener 10-2, a veteran sportsman remarked to Murtaugh in the dressing room that it was the best fight he ever saw.

POLICE STEP IN
Mauch and Murtaugh were the only ones injured and no one seemed to know who did the damage. They and police finally broke up the free-for-all which lasted nearly 10 minutes.

After the game, which the Pirates won 3-2 after taking the opener 10-2, a veteran sportsman remarked to Murtaugh in the dressing room that it was the best fight he ever saw.

ON BOTTOM OF PILE
"I wouldn't know," said Murtaugh. "I was on the bottom of the pile and didn't see a thing."

After the melee Mauch argued with plate umpire Frank Secory that Smith should be ejected from the game. Mauch announced the game was being played under protest but later in the dressing room the Phillies manager said he was withdrawing his protest.

ADDMITS DOUBLE TAG
Smith admitted making a second tag on Gonzalez and added: "I'll do it every time . . . (to) anybody who comes in with their spikes at my face. I'll give any base runner the plate but when they start playing that way I'm going to do something about it. I've got a wife and three kids to support."

Mauch and Gonzalez said Smith had it "all wrong."

"What was the kid (Gonzalez) supposed to do?" asked Mauch. Smith had made a great play on the throw from right-fielder Roberto Clemente but he was six to seven feet up the line. It appeared that Gonzalez had to slide to reach the plate.

"LET 'EM FIGHT"
Secory explained after the game that he didn't think Smith's action warranted ejection.

Dascoli said: "I'm an umpire, not a fight referee. If they want to fight, let them fight. . . ."

As for the line of fights which could be observed, it went something like this:

Don Hoak of Pittsburgh vs. Pancho Herrera; Don Leppert vs. Lee Walls of the Phils; Elmer Valo of Philly vs. anyone in sight; Frank Sullivan vs. Pirate coach Northey.

Smoky Burgess was the batting star for the Pirates in the first game victory with four singles and a solo home run in the 13th attack. Harvey Haddix (8-5) got the victory. Art Mahaffey (7-16) suffered his ninth straight loss.

Tom Sturdivant, former New York Yankees pitcher, won his first victory for the Pirates in the nightcap with a six-hitter, one of them a homer by Gonzalez. The Pirates scored what turned out to be the winning run in the eighth on a single by Hoak, who earlier had belted a homer, Dick Stuart's double and a sacrifice fly. Chris Short (4-8) was the loser.

The Phillies now have dropped 12 games in a row, one short of the major league high this year, and their longest losing streak in six years.

Sowers May Resume Driving At Grove
WILLIAMS GROVE — "To run or not to run!" — that is the question to be faced by Roger Sowers before post time for Friday night's modified stock car racing card on the Williams Grove Speedway.

Sowers elected to "sit out" last week's race until a definite decision was made on the alleged infringement of regulations growing out of an incident occurring on the program one week earlier. It is believed that the Mt. Holly Springs lad will return to the racing wars on the upcoming card.

Ladies' Night will be observed at the Grove this Friday, according to Owner Bob Richwine, who also announced that dates for the weekly races will be switched to Sunday afternoons commencing September 10 due to local scholastic football events.

The 25-lap feature race on this week's card has been designated as the "Ladies' Night Sweepstakes," at which time all ladies and children under 12 will be admitted free to any area of the plant, including the covered grandstand.

Dodgers Wallop Burdette As Reds Bow To Cards; Beanball Duel And Brawl

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

That two-team scrap for the National League pennant erupted into a wild and woolly battle from coast to coast Tuesday night as moving from West to East:

The Los Angeles Dodgers finally caught up with Lew Burdette and whipped the Milwaukee Braves 7-3 for a one-game lead;

Third-place San Francisco beat the Chicago Cubs 8-1 in a beanball duel between Jack Sanford and Don Cardwell;

The St. Louis Cardinals outslugged second-place Cincinnati 6-5.

And Pittsburgh's fallen idols and Philadelphia's last-place Phils went at it in an all-out brawl in the second game of the Pirates' 10-2 and 3-2 two-night doubleheader sweep.

LONG-TIME COMING
The Dodgers, who had lost nine in a row to Burdette in Los Angeles Coliseum, twice blew leads before finally beating the big right-hander with a two-run sixth inning. Junior Gilliam walked, went to third on Duke Snider's single and scored as catcher Joe Torre dropped a throw at the plate — after Gilliam stepped on his ankle. Snider, who drove in two runs, one with a homer, then came across with the clinching run on a single by Frank Howard.

Dick Farrell (7-5) was the winner in relief after starter Sandy Koufax gave up a home run by Frank Thomas and left when the Braves took a 3-2 lead on Joe Adcock's two-run single in the sixth.

The Reds and Cards jolted each other with three home runs, but the Red Birds wound up with the edge on a ninth-inning belt by Ken Boyer, his 17th of the year and second of the night off loser Bob Purkey (13-6). Purkey, Vada Pinson and pinch-hitter Jerry Lynch homered for the Reds, with Lynch's fifth pinch shot of the year (one shy of the record) tying it 5-5 in the top of the ninth against winning reliever Lindy McDaniel (8-5). Bill White paired with Boyer for solo home runs in the third inning, after each had knocked in a run with a single in the first.

MAYS' BAT WINS
A two-run single by Willie Mays put it away for the Giants in the first inning. Then Cardwell (9-0) and Sanford (7-6) went to work. Cardwell dropped Sanford with a second-inning pitch and plunked Orlando Cepeda in the back in the third. Sanford got rid of Cardwell in the sixth, nicking him on the back of the neck with a pitch that put the Cub right-hander out of the game. He wasn't injured seriously.

COLUMNIST'S MAIL BRINGS MANY ITEMS

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
Do you feel more worthwhile? You should. The chemicals in your body used to be worth 87 cents, now they're worth about 98 cents.
Today's college man is no Beau Brummell. He has an average of only 2.9 suits.
Now is the time to be careful. Accidents hit a peak in the summer months, are lowest in the months of January, February and March.
20 CIGARS A DAY
Worth repeating: Half the world's miseries are caused by hardness of heart—the other half by softness of head.
Odd items about famous folk: Singer Polly Bergen modeled bathing suits as a teen-ager, didn't learn to swim until last summer. Sigmund Freud, the father of psychoanalysis, smoked 20 cigars a day, Thomas Jefferson, who drafted the U.S. Declaration of Independence, studied up to 15 hours daily as a college student.

One reason doctor's bills are getting higher: It now takes $67,000 to train a specialist.
PERSONAL PRONOUN
Many soldiers would be surprised to know the rocket gun isn't new to military science. The Chinese invented it some 3,000 years ago.
Long-winded: The oldest president at the start of his term in office, William Henry Harrison, 68 years, 23 days, delivered the longest inaugural address—more than 8,000 words. Wearing neither hat nor great coat he rode on horseback through a storm to the ceremony, caught a cold and died a month later. Pride led him to his tomb.
While we're on this subject, we might as well admit Harrison (a general in that speech used the personal pronoun "I" a record 45 times . . . a colonel, Theodore Roosevelt, was the only President who never used the word "I" in his inaugural address, yet he was

DOUBLE BIRTH IS VERY RARE

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The odds on Mrs. Leonard Shaffer giving birth to two children not twins—at the same time—were anywhere from 608,503 to a million or more to one—depending on whose statistics you use.

News in its nose: A bloodhound doesn't trail just footprints. It follows the entire body scent of a lost or fugitive person, and can in damp weather smell him half a mile away, or follow him 10 days later along his path.
The growth of an industry: The number of aircraft produced in America increased from a known 45 in 1912 to an estimated 10,881 in 1960. But wartime 1945 was the fabulous year: The U.S. built 96,272 military planes, contrasting with 1909 when it produced one.

ESSAY AT 12
Harriet Beecher Stowe helped influence the course of the nation with "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Her first literary effort at the age of 12 was an essay titled "Can the Immortality of the Soul Be Proved by the Light of Reason?" For some reason it never became a best seller.

MARK BEATEN BY UNKNOWN

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Jim Shaffer, a crew-cut 20-year-old left-hander from St. Petersburg, Fla., today was the unranked unknown in the third round of the Eastern Grass Court Championships. He was also unimpressed.
"Under the conditions, I wouldn't call this my best win," Shaffer said, referring to his 6-1, 6-4 elimination of second-seeded Bob Mark of Australia.
Mark, favoring a sore right leg, was unable to play up to his world-ranking form, although he battled Shaffer in the second set. Mark had suffered a crippling cramp that forced him to default in Sunday's Southampton final.
Shaffer now faces another unknown, six-foot-five Bailey (Bitsy) Harrison of Richmond, Va., who upset Crawford Henry, the 12th-ranking U.S. player from Atlanta, Ga., 6-4, 3-6, 9-7.

Offer Compromise On Strip Mine Bill

HARRISBURG (AP)—A possible compromise on the controversial strip mine backfilling issue was submitted Tuesday to the House.
The sponsors said they intended it as a backstop should the Senate reject a bill now before it requiring bituminous strip mine operators to fill abandoned pits to the top of the highest wall.
The compromise bill would lower the requirement to halfway up the high wall. The bill in the Senate already has passed the House.
Strip mine interests long ago proposed that they be required to • Adopt from fashion those styles and colors that individually becomes you. Wearing a fashion just for fashion's sake can cancel out a woman's uniqueness, her most valuable quality. Besides "best-dressed" lovelies cultivate a style of their own within the framework of fashion.

• Choose simplicity over fussiness. In our times, cluttered clothes and a clutter of accessories backfill halfway as a compromise in the issue. This was first accepted by the House, then reversed a few days later in favor of the full refill.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
HOW TO BE WELLS DRESSED.
Not time, not money — but fashion sense is the key to being well-dressed. She who possesses a sense of fashion also possesses a becoming, tasteful and occasion-cued wardrobe. She manages to do it, too, without spending more time or money than her budget allows.
In developing a fashion sense, these pointers on good dressing are basic:
• Keep abreast of the best in new fashion, by studying what top designers plan to offer for series are incompatible with discerning taste.

• Work for harmony. A beautiful costume, like a beautiful painting, is the sum total of harmonious colors, textures and line.
• Make a detailed plan of all your needs. Jot down types—casual to formal—colors and fabrics desired. And then shop methodically.
• Be a martinet about fit. Unless clothing fits as the designer intended, it is not fit for you.
• Be a grooming perfectionist. Untidiness would destroy the effect of crown jewels and royal ermines. What it would do to us girls in fake jewelry and furs is unthinkable, possible unprintable.
YOUR FLATTERING COLORS
In fashion, nothing makes you lovelier than color. It can enhance your skin, hair, eyes and figure; it can express your individuality and style. Great powers, those! To learn how to put them to work for you, read our leaflet, "YOUR MOST FLATTERING COLORS." TRAILER BILL TO BE RAMMED THRU HOUSE; HAS SENATE OK

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislative leaders planned to roll the 40-foot trailer bill through the House today despite protests it would create a safety hazard by permitting 55-foot tractor-trailer combinations.

The measure was rammed through the Senate Tuesday in the face of arguments that another week's delay couldn't possibly matter because it doesn't become effective until next Jan. 1.

Only three senators—two Republicans and a Democrat—voted against the compromise bill. Another, a Democrat, took a walk before the roll was called.

ONCE DEFEATED

The Senate vote was 46-3 which was unusual on so controversial a measure.

It indicated fairly easy passage in the House, where the proposal had been defeated once the first time around before it finally was approved.

The Philadelphia Democrats led the opposition in the House, but opposition from Philadelphia disappeared in the Senate.

Those voting for the 40-foot trailer in the Senate said it was necessary to help the state's economy.

CALLED TRAFFIC HAZARD

The three opponents argued that while the longer trailer might be desirable, adding five feet to the over-all length of these big highway rigs would create a serious traffic hazard.

Sens. Jo Hays, D-Centre, Robert Fleming, R-Allegheny, and Thomas Ehrgood, R-Lebanon, opposed it. Sen. John Carl Miller, D-Beaver, was absent.

The compromise was hammered out last weekend by Gov. Lawrence and representatives of the trucking firms, including one firm headed by James P. Clark, Philadelphia city Democratic finance chairman.

DELAY MOVE FAILS

The bill in its original form would have increased the legal length of only the trailer section from 35 to 40 feet.

The addition of five feet to the over-all rig, inserted by a joint House-Senate conference committee, will be permitted for five years.

By that time it is expected that the transportation firms will acquire new tractors which are about five feet shorter than present models.

DEBATE SAFETY ANGLE

Fleming introduced a motion for a delay of a week. He was backed by Ehrgood.

Their motion was shouted down on a voice vote.

Fleming said the measure had been hanging fire since mid-July, when it passed the House, and that the people should be given a chance to know what's going on.

Turning to the safety aspects of the longer rigs, Ehrgood said: "... It seems to me that the governor of this Commonwealth has cried to high heaven about highway safety, and we now have in front of us, with his approval and worked out in his office, a bill to provide for 55 feet (tractor-trailers)."

Adams Flower Judging Team

Adams County's team, entered in the state 4-H flower judging contest to be held at Pennsylvania State University August 15, are shown getting pointers in identification of flowers from Miss Ann Lott, Pennsylvania State University horticulture student, who is assisting in training the team to identify more than 50 annual flowers and answer various questions on flower management. Miss Lott is standing. Members of the team, seated, left to right, are the Misses Diana Bricker, York Springs R. 1; Martha Hikes, York Springs R. 2, and Martha Bowman, McSherrystown.

On the barren mesas of the Hopi Indian land in northern Arizona, the modern day supermarket is known mostly by hearsay. Stores, even small ones, are scarce in the Hopi country. But because of Harry and Mary Dannelley of Phoenix, the Hopi housewife enjoys a weekly visit to the supermarket without leaving her mountain village.

The Dannelleys operate a rolling supermarket — for Hopis only. Using a 3-ton pickup truck and a semitrailer with a short wheelbase (necessary to negotiate the sharp turns in the mountains), the Dannelleys haul choice fruits and vegetables to seven villages each week. In addition, they carry eggs, candy, and such staples as dry beans, potatoes, onions, and flour. At Thanksgiving they deliver turkeys. They usually haul about five tons of produce, but during a holiday season the load is increased to seven tons.

The Hopis live on three locations, known as First, Second, and Third Mesas. Because of load limitations, the Dannelleys drive their market only to Second and Third Mesas. They head for Hopi country each Tuesday, and again making the rounds of four Third Mesa villages.

Later, O. D. Shipley, state commissioner of highway safety, was asked whether the longer rigs would constitute a safety hazard if they are allowed on the roads for five years. He replied: "The checks I have made with the Interstate Commerce Commission and with other people indicate that they will not endanger public safety. The big safety factor involved with trucks, as well as with cars, is driver error, carelessness and speed."

early Wednesday morning. They visit three villages on Second Mesa on Thursday, then drive all the way back to Phoenix Thursday night. The round trip is about a thousand miles.

The couple began operating their mesa market three years ago, when Dannelley, a carpenter at Grand Canyon, was injured and could no longer work at his trade. He began transporting fresh produce to Grand Canyon to sell to workers there, some of whom were Hopi Indians. The Hopis enjoyed their dealings with the two Dannelleys, and invited the Phoenix couple to take produce to the Indian villages. Since only those who are given tribal consent may sell on the Hopi reservations, the invitation was a gesture of friendship.

Ever try eating oranges and onions together?

"Well, if you haven't, try it," suggests Chef Bill Schmidt, Canadian National Hotels executive chef and supervisory chef at Jasper Park Lodge in the Canadian Rockies. "It makes the most cooling, refreshing sandwich you can serve."

"Take a slice of bread, butter it. Peel an orange, slice it, and place a layer of orange on the bread. Slice a large onion, and place a layer of onion on top of the orange. Top the sandwich with another slice of buttered bread. Cut and serve."

Chef Schmidt explains that orange and onion modify the strong taste of each other, producing a delicious cooling flavor for a summer-time sandwich.

A California plant has found a novel way to dispense small machine parts — it uses a bubble gum machine. No pennies are needed; just a twist of the knob and out pops the part.

GOP PLEDGE OPPOSITION

HARRISBURG (AP) — The 13 Republican House members from Philadelphia's three suburban counties have pledged themselves to oppose a Democratic congressional reapportionment plan adding sections of Delaware and of Bucks Counties to Philadelphia's congressional districts.

At the same time Tuesday, they issued a news release attacking the three Democratic House members from Delaware, Bucks and Montgomery Counties for not joining in the pledge.

Rep. Edwin G. Holl, R-Montgomery, said in the release that apparently U. S. Rep. William J. Green Jr., Philadelphia Democratic chairman, "has put the arm on them, because now they refuse to back up their previously expressed opposition with a written bipartisan pledge to fight for the integrity of our suburban districts."

CALLED "GRANDSTANDING"

The reapportionment plan submitted to the House this week would add Bensalem Twp. in Bucks County to Green's Northeast Philadelphia district and the four Delaware County townships to the West Philadelphia district of Rep. Kathryn Granahan, also a Democrat.

Montgomery County was not affected.

Rep. James J. A. Gallagher, D-Bucks, called the pledge and accompanying news release "grandstanding."

TWO MINERS KILLED

BROWNSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A roof fall at a coal mine near this Fayette County community Tuesday night killed two miners who had just started their shift.

James Capriano, 49, of Allison, and Joseph Kocok, 46, of Browns-ville, were buried under coal and slate. Their bodies were recovered about two hours later.

CYCLIST KILLED

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — A motorcycle crash on U. S. 40 at nearby Beallsville Tuesday night killed the operator, Benjamin Capozzi of Bentleyville R. 1.

A passenger, Frank Stevenson of Fredericktown R. 1, escaped injury. He was thrown clear as the motorcycle left the highway and struck a utility pole.

House Downs Real Estate Tax Floor By Seven Votes

HARRISBURG (AP) — An attempt to set a floor under real estate tax assessments in Pennsylvania failed Monday night in the House.

A pair of bills setting 30 per cent as the minimum ratio of assessment to true value narrowly failed of passage.

One bill—dealing with the state's third class counties—got 99 votes, seven short of the 106 needed for passage. There were 96 negative votes. The other bill—applying to the remainder of the 65 smaller counties in the state—got 104 votes. There were 89 negative votes.

ALL BUT TWO

Neither bill applied to Philadelphia or Allegheny, the most populous counties in the state. In both counties, however, the assessed value of property is well above 30 per cent.

The vote was taken without debate.

Originally, the measures proposed to set 60 per cent as the minimum ratio of assessed to true market value. It was cut to 30 per cent by the House Committee on Counties.

PRINCIPAL SOURCE

Real estate is the principal source of taxation at the local government level in Pennsylvania. The average assessment is 43 per cent of the market value.

Taxes are levied on the assessed value, rather than the real value. Meanwhile, the House also rejected an all-or-nothing package to add new judges in Philadelphia, Bucks and Butler counties.

WHOLE PACKAGE

Majority Leader Stephen McCann advised the 194 members attending the first session after a nearly two-week recess that they had to accept the whole package

State May Sell Unused Armory

HARRISBURG (AP) — A proposed three-way transaction to turn an old National Guard Armory over to the Lebanon County workshop for handicapped children is before the House after winning Senate approval.

The Senate passed the plan 50-0 Monday night without debate. The Commonwealth would sell for $1 the unused armory on Chestnut Street in Lebanon to the county commissioners, who in turn would transfer it to the workshop.

The old Burrows School, now used by the workshop, would revert to the school district.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill to lease land in Valley Forge State Park for a U. S. post office has been approved unanimously by the Senate.

It was sent to the House Monday night by a vote of 50-0.

TAX BUGABOO FACES HOUSE ON EDUCATION

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House today faced a recurring bugaboo—a tax bill—after clearing $43.8 million in proposed appropriations for state-aided homes, hospitals and schools.

The tax in question is a proposed 2 per cent levy on dividends, rents, royalties and capital gains. It is designed to provide $25.5 million to finance education improvements in the upcoming new year.

Republican and Democratic delegations called late morning caucuses to work out policy on the levy. Rep. Stephen McCann, Democratic floor leader, said he planned to call the bill to a vote, ride or fall.

The GOP previously had indicated all but unanimous opposition to the tax.

There were ample signs that large portions of the Democratic caucus were opposed to additional taxes to finance public school education. The key to the situation appeared to rest with Philadelphia's 38-member bloc of votes.

Democratic opposition reportedly was centered in that group.

Rep. Joshua Eilberg, chairman of the delegation, conceded there were members of his group opposed but said he favors the tax bill.

Eilberg planned to meet with his delegation following the regular Democratic caucus.

It appeared that the Democratic leadership would have to reduce defections in their ranks on the tax bill to a few votes. There were estimates last night that as many as 12, possibly more, Democrats were opposed.

There were believed to be only a couple GOP votes for the measure.

It would take 106 votes to pass the bill.

Should the tax plan fail, the recommendations for changes in education would fall with it, including such things as an $18.6 million boost in school subsidies.

Defeat of the plan would also wash out a year's work by Gov. Lawrence's special education study committee and a shorter study by a special House-Senate select committee.

Meanwhile, there were growing signs that the legislature plans a final adjournment soon—perhaps within two weeks.

Insiders said one sure sign was the surprise action by Republicans Tuesday withdrawing their opposition to the nonpreferred appropriations bills. They were the only major appropriations—outside of education—still confronting the lower chamber. The Senate is expected to give them comparatively speedy approval next week.

What year car do the Jones drive?

The Jones drive a Volkswagen, and Volkswagens look alike from year to year.

A Volkswagen is never outmoded. Indeed, no one knows how long a Volkswagen lasts; the first VWs made have not worn out. We hear from VW owners who have clocked over 100,000 miles without engine repair. (If they should ever need it, they will find VW service is as good as the car.)

The Volkswagen does change—where it counts. An anti-sway bar has just been added to the front suspension to make curves even smoother. New insulation deadens engine and roadway noise. And the VW's new front seats are deeply contoured for even greater comfort. Over the years, almost every part in the VW has been changed—but not its heart or face. Volkswagen owners find this a happy way to drive—and to live. No doubt you will, too.

Come in and drive a new Volkswagen today.

Hausner Ridicules Minor Eichmann Role As Trial Summations Are Started

By GARVEN HUGHINS
JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel's attorney general Tuesday called Adolf Eichmann "a murderer of millions and an inveterate liar" in a summation of the prosecution case against the former Gestapo colonel.

"There are, as we have seen, massive documents which testify to Eichmann as the central figure in the murderous plans to exterminate the Jews," prosecutor Gideon Hausner declared.

Hausner ridiculed Eichmann's defense that he had only a minor role in the Nazi campaign against the Jews.

IMPORTANT LINK

"The accused was a very important link in bringing Jews to camps where he knew full well they were going to be exterminated," the prosecutor said.

Hausner cited evidence at the Nuremberg war crimes trials by such top Nazis as Hermann Goering singling out Eichmann as a central figure in all Jewish matters.

Hausner made his charges as he launched his sum up of the prosecution evidence presented at Eichmann's 16-week-old trial for criminal responsibility in the wartime massacre of six million Jews. He started his summation immediately after the court recessed after a two-week recess.

STARES AHEAD

Eichmann, 56, wearing the dark business suit, white shirt and blue-striped tie he has worn since his trial opened April 11, stared ahead from his glassed-in prisoners' dock as Hausner accused him of perpetrating a "great horror."

"Adolf Eichmann, who stands trial before you, was Hitler's henchman and executed the crimes required of him," Hausner told the three judges. "He was the instrument of this destructive force."

CRIMES CHARGED

Eichmann, chief of the Gestapo's Jewish affairs section, is charged with criminal responsibility in the massacre of an estimated six million Jews during the Nazi wartime pogrom. He claimed he was only a small cog in the Gestapo machinery who never acted on his own.

Referring to memory lapses which Eichmann pleaded when confronted with damaging documentary evidence, Hausner recalled the defendant had no difficulty recalling the price of lentil soup in the 1930s, the food he got as an SS officer trainee at Dachau before the war, the furnishings of various offices.

Hausner lumped Eichmann together with the top Nazi war criminals and pictured them all "as men who saw an opportunity for good salary and comfortable living conditions, prepared for these ends to give total support to an abomination."

Hausner's summing up is expected to continue through Thursday and possibly into Friday. Eichmann's West German defense attorney, Dr. Robert Servatius, will present the defense summation after a short break of perhaps two days. Servatius is expected to speak for only one day. The three judges probably will announce a tentative date for the verdict when the summations are concluded.

TOP CHINESE STAR IS DEAD

TOKYO (AP) — Mei Lan-fang, 67, who beguiled emperors and commissars alike with his willowy grace as a heroine of Chinese opera, has sung his last song.

Peiping radio announced that the Chinese theater's most famous performer died of heart disease in a Peiping hospital Tuesday. Premier Chou En-lai, who as a youth played the same "tan" or female roles, came to Mei's bedside during his fatal illness.

The impersonator became a national hero when he refused to perform before the Japanese conquerors of China during World War II. When the military commanders insisted, he grew a mustache which made it impossible for him to play his female roles.

Born in Kiangsu Province of a family of renowned actors, Mei was trained as a boy by his musician uncle, Yu Tien. He made his professional debut at the age of 12.

The delicacy of his acting in the stylized opera and the control of his voice in the high-pitched parts he was called on to play made him the idol of China in the 1920s and 1930s.

KENNEDY SAYS NEW FARM BILL IS MAJOR STEP

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed into law Tuesday a new farm program which he called "a major step toward a sound agricultural economy and a better life for the farmers of this country."

Present at the White House signing were leaders of Congress, key men on the Senate and House Agriculture committees, heads of five major farm organizations and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

The new law permits higher farm price supports in return for a 10 per cent cut in wheat acreage; a continuation next year of the emergency feed grains program; and extension of a number of other farm programs—including surplus disposal and school milk programs—for varying periods of years.

Kennedy said the law will permit expansion of markets, a reduction of the stocks of wheat and feed grains, and a lessening of the burden on taxpayers. Both farmers and consumers, he said, will benefit from extension of marketing orders to more commodities.

He mentioned also the possibilities for enlarging markets for American farm products overseas and for expanding the school milk program at home.

FATHER, SON CALM IN JAIL

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Two Arizonians today were described as quiet, cooperative prisoners with healthy appetites although they face possible life imprisonment after a thwarted attempt to deliver a Continental Airlines jet, its crew and hostage passengers to Cuba.

Leon Bearden, 38, and his son, Cody, 16, kept in separate cells in the county jail here, showed little emotion as they received copies of the indictment handed down Monday by a federal grand jury.

The indictment charged the Beardens, of Coolidge, Ariz., with kidnapping members of the plane's crew and transporting the aircraft, crew and hostages across state lines. They will be arraigned in U.S. District Court at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

The prisoners were not allowed to talk with newsmen but jailers said they had no trouble with the Beardens. They said neither the father nor son had any conversation except with investigating officers.

Held on $100,000 bond each, they probably will be brought to trial soon after Labor Day.

9 SURVIVORS ENROUTE HOME

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—Nine of the survivors of last week's Lake Lucerne bus disaster left here for New York Tuesday.

They included the only two injured passengers of the bus, Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, of Rock Hill, S.C., and Mrs. Martha Isaacs, of Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Mitchell has a broken pelvis and was carried into the plane on a stretcher. Mrs. Isaacs, who was badly bruised, traveled in a wheelchair. Both were brought from Lucerne by ambulance.

Others on the flight are: Mrs. Pauline Hudson of Altoona, Pa.; Miss Katherine Owens, of Vandergrift, Pa.; Mrs. Hermine Hunsberger, of Norristown, Pa.; and her daughter, Nancy; Mrs. Helen Egleston of Norristown, Miss Blair Crowther, of Tampa, Fla., and Miss Mildred McKown of Vandergrift, Pa.

Most of the 10 other survivors are leaving Le Havre for New York on the liner United States Friday.

Sixteen members of the party were drowned when their bus plunged into Lake Lucerne at Hergiswil last Wednesday afternoon. Eight bodies are missing.

BOYLE CHASES ZANY IMPULSE OF DAYDREAMS

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody has unfinished business in his life. It consists of all the things he'd like to do or get—but somehow, for one reason or another, never does.

Some of the things may seem quite important and, unachieved, may leave a visible scar. Others are only foolish wishful daydreams—vagrant yearnings, zany impulses, small vanities unexpressed. Their defeat impels us to no regret beyond a wry sigh and the philosophical observation, "Well, that's life for you."

BUILDS OWN FILE

Each man builds up his own file of unfinished business—his private portfolio of the wished-for but unattained—as he goes along from childhood through adulthood, and if he keeps his zest for living the file gets bigger and bigger.

For example, somewhere along the way I've wanted to do such things as:

Survivors Of Bus Tragedy Nurse Memory

NEW YORK (AP) — Nine survivors of the bus tragedy in Switzerland last week are back in this country with vivid memories of their brush with death.

Several credited an air pocket with saving them when their tour bus plunged from a rain-drenched road into the icy waters of Lake Lucerne.

"When I came to in the bus there was about a foot of air space," said Pauline Hudson of Altoona, Pa. "A girl rolled down a window and I got out."

Mrs. Hudson wept in speaking of her friend, Julia Schultz, also of Altoona. She was one of 16 American tourists who apparently died in the lake's icy waters. Only eight bodies have been recovered.

ONE ON STRETCHER

Two of the nine who arrived at Idlewild Airport Tuesday had been injured in the bus crash—Margaret Mitchell of Oxford, N.C., and Martha Isaacs of Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Mitchell, transferred by stretcher to a plane bound for Raleigh, N.C., suffered a fractured pelvis.

Mrs. Isaacs, badly bruised, traveled in a wheel chair. She was transferred to another flight for the last leg of her trip home.

Caroline Blair Crowther, 24, a Tampa, Fla., teacher, said "there was just enough of an air pocket in which to breathe. I really thought I was going to die."

Other returning survivors included Katherine Owens of Vandergrift, Pa.; Hermina Hunsberger of Norristown, Pa., and her daughter, Nancy; Helen Egleson of Norristown, and Mildred McKown of Vandergrift.

Ten other survivors are returning by ship.

The 1961 champions of the New Oxford Junior Baseball League are the Turks who went through the season with a 9-1 slate. They are pictured, front row, left to right: Steve Walker, Steve Spicer, Steve Klunk, William Walker, Donald Sharrer. Second row: Daniel Garber, Brad Wolf, Ed Lawrence, Donald Stock, David O'Brien. Back row: William Walker, manager; Steve O'Brien, Michael Benedict, David Walker, Gary Costello, James Costello, coach. John Summers was missing when picture was taken.

The Clubbers finished the season in second place with an 8-2 record while the Tankers tied for last place with a 2-8 slate. Those present from both teams when pictures were taken are, front row, left to right: Thomas Hawn, Michael Staub, John Lebo, Mitch Diviney, Harold Lebo, all Clubbers. Back row: Gary Moore and Steve Topper, members of the Tankers; Donald Moul, Charles Hock-smith, Gary Hawn, Thomas Shrader, Clubbers.

South Carolinians Elect First GOP Since Civil War

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — Charles E. Boineau, 37, a trucking firm executive, has shattered a nearly century-old tradition by winning election on the Republican ticket to South Carolina's General Assembly.

When Boineau takes his seat with the Richland County delegation next January, he will be the first Republican in the legislature since Reconstruction days. He will be out-numbered by Democrats in the General Assembly by 169-1.

On the basis of unofficial returns, Boineau got 7,333 votes in 5,940 for Democrat Joe Berry Jr. who had the support of South Carolina's Democratic party organization.

A write-in candidate, J. R. Hanahan, who called himself a State Rights man, got only 260 votes. There were no local issues in the special election to fill a vacancy. The choice, personalities set aside, was simply between a man who called himself a Republican and one who said he was a Democrat. All three candidates styled themselves conservatives.

GOP Leaders Blast Plans For State Reapportioning

HARRISBURG (AP) — "Absurd . . . a legislative monstrosity . . . a Democratic sham."

These were just some of the charges tossed out by Republican leaders Monday after the Democrats finally unveiled their long-awaited formula for congressional reapportionment of Pennsylvania.

George I. Bloom, Pennsylvania's GOP chairman, labeled the plan absurd and preposterous.

BLOOM'S CLAIM
"It's a fraud because it does not honestly recognize the requirement under the census to eliminate one of Philadelphia's six Democratic congressmen," Bloom claimed in a statement.

House Minority Leader Albert W. Johnson, R-McKean, agreed, blasting the plan as "a Democratic sham" and "gerrymandering gone mad."

The formula as outlined by the House Majority Leader Stephen McCann at a news conference, calls for reshuffling of Pennsylvania's 30 congressional districts into 27.

CENSUS SHIFTS
Reapportionment is necessary because of population shifts recorded in the 1960 census.

The big bone of contention lies in the Democrats' proposal to expand two of Philadelphia's six Democratic-controlled congressional seats to include portions of Republican-controlled Delaware and Bucks Counties.

Specifically, Haverford, Radnor, Marple and Newtown Twp. in Delaware County would be annexed to Philadelphia's 2nd District while Bensalem Twp. in Bucks County would be added to the city's 5th District.

"Citizens of Delaware County have been outraged," charged Sen. Clarence D. Bell, R-Delaware, in a floor speech.

BELL BLAST
"This (plan) is an invasion of the basic principles of Democratic government; namely the right of American citizens to be represented by one of their own neighbors," he added.

Pointing out that the four townships to be annexed turned in a Republican majority of 23,800 votes in the 1959 election, Bell issued "A firm warning to those who call the moves from City Hall in Philadelphia."

"If the Democratic plan goes through," he said, "there will be a Republican congressman in that 2nd District."

AGAINST PLAN
"The people of my county, Republicans and Democrats alike, are going to vote solidly in opposition to the plan," he stated.

Bloom, in his statement, accused the Democrats of trying to "force their brand of scandal-ridden Philadelphia government into the Republican suburbs adjacent to that city so they would annex portions of those counties to Philadelphia."

Bloom said the plan "is the handwork of the legislative tool" of Rep. William Green, Democratic chairman of Philadelphia and a power in state party politics.

Sen. Bell's remarks met with a sharp rebuttal from Sen. Harry E. Seyler, D-York.

Bell lives in a county "which is grossly under represented," Seyler said. "In his county, there is one congressman to 552,000 people. If we are going to reapportion and get down to the basis of 27 (districts), we will have one congressman to every 419,000 people."

Most Democrats in the legislature hailed the plan as a good idea. McCann termed it "fair and equitable."

OTHER MOVES
Besides expanding Philadelphia congressional districts, the plan also would square off these incumbent congressmen if they seek re-election: Reps. Francis Walter, a Democrat, and Willard Curtin, a Republican; John Dent, Democrat, and Irving Whalley, Republican; Ivor Fenton and Herman Schneebeli, both Republicans.

As drawn in the plan, the Democratic congressmen would have a tremendous vote margin over the Republicans. Only one congressman, Walter, has indicated he will not seek re-election.

Seven existing congressional districts would not be changed, though six would be assigned new numbers. The districts and their proposed new numbers (old numbers in brackets) are: 6th, Philadelphia (6th); 9th, Montgomery (13th); 10th, Lancaster and Chester (9th); 15th, Cumberland, Adams, York (19th); 21st, Washington, Fayette and Greene (26th); 22nd, Lawrence, Butler and Beaver (25th); 23rd, Erie, Crawford and Mercer (24th).

MORTON BACKS FOREIGN AID SENATE BILL

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, former Republican national chairman, has thrown his support behind President Kennedy's long-range foreign aid program.

Kennedy seeks Treasury borrowing authority to finance a five-year, $8.8-billion loan program for development of struggling new nations.

Morton, in a prepared Senate speech, said the proposal was "identical in principle" with one advocated by former President Eisenhower in 1957, for which 21 Republicans now in the Senate voted at the time.

SHOULD SUPPORT IT
"I see no reason in principle that they should not support the same proposal when made by this administration," he said.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., however, has predicted that 30 to 35 Senate Republicans will vote for an amendment sponsored by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., to require that financing of the loan program come from annual appropriations.

Aiken, in another prepared speech, called the authority to borrow from the Treasury "primarily a grab for power" that would rob Congress of its control over the foreign aid program.

$9 BILLION BET
"The President requests Congress to give him authority to bet $9 billion in the game of power politics, with no assurance that it will not be lost," Aiken said.

Texts of the speeches were released in advance but there was no assurance they would be delivered today. Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., after speaking nearly nine hours Monday, expected to talk for at least another eight hours today against Senate confirmation of Lawrence J. O'Connor Jr. as a member of the Federal Power Commission.

A total of $1,187,000,000 of the loan money for the first year is part of this year's $4,326,500,000 foreign aid program on which the Senate hoped to resume debate today, with no votes expected until later in the week.

Administration leaders contended they have enough votes to reject the Byrd amendment by a razor-edge margin. Should the Byrd forces lose, a series of amendments will be proposed to put other congressional controls over the development loan program.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Young athletes strengthen their spirits and skills at the summer conferences of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Their day begins with a devotion at breakfast, followed by sessions of "inspiration and perspiration." Athletes huddle to discuss Christian life, while coaches study ways to impart spiritual values. Greats such as Branch Rickey, Otto Graham and George Kell testify to the strengthening factor of faith. Field workouts follow technical talks by pros and coaches such as the St. Louis Hawks' Bob Pettit, L.S.U.'s Paul Dietzel and Minnesota's Murray Warmuth.

With headquarters in Kansas City, the inter-denominational Fellowship has not only inspired athletes at the Colorado and Wisconsin summer camps, but also over a million youths through talks across America.

BEST STRING ARTISTS ARE SET FOR SHOW

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tonight at the Pilgrimage Theater: the string summit meeting.

This major musical event brings together the soaring talents of violinist Jascha Heifetz and viola player William Primrose, pianist Leonard Pennario and such other string artists as Virginia Majewski, Arnold Belnick, Joseph Stepansky, Gabor Rejto and Israel Baker.

The reason for the concerts: they like to make music.

SEES PREPARATIONS
I drove to Cahuenga Pass at the northern tip of Hollywood to observe the preparations. Workmen were busy erecting baffles to keep out the noise of the Hollywood Freeway and a panel overhanging the stage to wait the music to the audience.

Piatigorsky was first to arrive. A husky bear of a man in light slacks and blue coat, he explained why he and Heifetz had chosen the 1,300-seat theater. They could easily fill the 20,000-capacity Hollywood Bowl across the street.

"Ah, but the sound would not be the same," the cellist said. "Chamber music is meant to be played in a small place."

HEIFETZ APPEARS
Precisely at the rehearsal hour of 7:30, Heifetz appeared. Handsome with short, curly hair, he wore a dark blue suit and carried his violin case. He gazed at the construction over the stage and commented, "Looks like a gallows."

Heifetz also discussed the hazards of outdoor playing. They include weather—"it must not be too humid"—and aircraft.

"I don't know whether they can hear the music up there or not," he said wryly. "But somehow pilots have a talent for flying over during the slow passages, the most important parts."

PRIMROSE NEXT
Primrose, a precise-looking man in dark suit and glasses, appeared with his violin, and the trio walked to the platform.

The two violinists sat upright on the edge of their chairs while Piatigorsky slouched, his big arms enveloping the 1715 Stradivarius. The music sounded perfect but the artists weren't satisfied.

They moved their chairs back a few feet on the stage and played again. Then they tried it on the apron over the orchestra pit. The game of musical chairs continued until they ended up again on the stage, which they deemed acoustically correct for their meeting at the summit.

MIT Rocket Expert Says U.S. Leads Over-all Race

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — The United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in the over-all space field says C. Stark Draper, head of aeronautical engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Draper expressed his belief Monday after Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov landed from his space flight.

Speaking at the American Rocket Society's national conference, Draper described as "malarkey" reports that Titov controlled the course of his Vostok II during his orbiting of the earth.

NO ORBITAL CHANGE
"That boy didn't do anything more than Shepard (Alan B. Shepard Jr.) did on his ride," said Draper. "He didn't have the thrust aboard to go out of his orbital path. I think what they (the Russians) mean was that he was changing the attitude of the capsule—just like Shepard (the American astronaut) did in the sub-orbital test."

Draper said the Russians concentrate their best scientists and technicians in a narrow field to get spectacular results.

"Years ago," he said, "we made the decision to build big, broad organizations which will have big quantities of production when they get going."

"We shouldn't be surprised or dismayed if it takes longer than the other way."

FISHING FOR CHILDREN
HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence is expected to give speedy approval to a measure authorizing establishment of special fishing sites for children and disabled persons.

The Senate completed legislative action on the proposal by a vote of 50-0 Monday night.

The State Fish Commission would have discretion to establish the fishing spots in cooperation with local authorities.

BLAMES UNION
In all, nearly 700 employees—including singers, musicians, the chorus, the ballet, the administrative and technical staffs and backstage workers—are affected.

Bing, calling the cancellation a "catastrophe," blamed Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians, saying it had demanded a weekly salary for musicians of $248 for six performances plus other benefits, as against last season's rate of $170.13 for seven performances.

An official statement from the Met said the demands would have added $750,000 to the Met's prospective deficit, which last season hit $840,000 before contributions.

The Met has reached agreement with 14 other unions. A spokesman for the Musicians' Union said: "The Met has presented its side. We want to study its statement very carefully. We will then present to the public our side of the story. We ask everyone to suspend judgment until then."

The Louisiana Purchase was negotiated with Napoleon in 1803.

BING BLAMES UNION FEES FOR MET CLOSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Music lovers reacted in somber tones to the announced closing of the Metropolitan Opera for the 1961-62 season and the cancellation of the Met's annual spring tour.

Words like "disgrace" and "irreparable blow" came from some of the world's greatest opera singers. One appealed directly to President Kennedy to help settle the labor dispute which the Met blamed for the closing.

More optimistic patrons of the arts recalled, however, that two other announced cancellations in recent years never went into effect. Labor troubles, blamed then too, were subsequently ironed out.

GLOOMY PROSPECTS
In making the announcement Monday, Met General Manager Rudolph Bing said "I see no hope" of saving the 1961-62 season. He was gloomy about prospects for the 1962-63 season.

The crux of the situation is that since July 30 the top stars and even the lesser ones have been free to make other commitments.

"We cannot have a season without these singers," Bing said, adding that as many as two dozen of the more than 100 artists on the roster "already have been lost."

In all, nearly 700 employees—including singers, musicians, the chorus, the ballet, the administrative and technical staffs and backstage workers—are affected.

Bing, calling the cancellation a "catastrophe," blamed Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians, saying it had demanded a weekly salary for musicians of $248 for six performances plus other benefits, as against last season's rate of $170.13 for seven performances.

An official statement from the Met said the demands would have added $750,000 to the Met's prospective deficit, which last season hit $840,000 before contributions.

The Met has reached agreement with 14 other unions. A spokesman for the Musicians' Union said: "The Met has presented its side. We want to study its statement very carefully. We will then present to the public our side of the story. We ask everyone to suspend judgment until then."

The Louisiana Purchase was negotiated with Napoleon in 1803.

New Head Of Secret Service Lauded By Philly Reporter

John C. O'Brien, head of the Washington bureau of The Philadelphia Inquirer, wrote the following interesting article on James J. Rowley, new head of the Secret Service. Rowley is well known here having accompanied former President Eisenhower to his nearby farm on many occasions during the past eight years. O'Brien's article follows:

The new chief of the United States Secret Service, James J. Rowley, is one of the very few members of the service who, while charged with responsibility for the protection of the President, ever had to deal with a serious assassination attempt.

Rowley was head of the White House Secret Service detail in 1950 when a group of fanatical Puerto Ricans attempted to storm Blair House and assassinate former President Harry S. Truman.

The President and Mrs. Truman were living then in the Government's guest house while the White House was undergoing extensive reconstruction. Rowley was attending a meeting of White House aides in the White House executive wing when the Puerto Ricans started shooting across the street in front of Blair House. By the time he reached the scene, other members of the Secret Service detail and White House police but the situation under control, but he remembers those few moments as the most anxious in his career as a Presidential bodyguard.

ASSASSIN KILLED

One of the assassins was killed and another wounded in the exchange of gunfire which cost the life of one of the White House policemen and wounded two others.

Rowley has been a member of the Presidential bodyguard since 1939. During most of his service he was chief of the White House detail. On September 1, he will become chief of the entire service, an arm of the Treasury Department, which is charged with the suppression of counterfeiting as well as protection of the President and the President's family and the vice president.

Rowley succeeds U. E. Baughman, who attended the University of Pennsylvania and for seven years, 1927 to 1934, headed the Philadelphia Secret Service Office.

PLANS TO TRAVEL

Although, like most SS agents, Baughman has done his share of globe-trotting with the Presidents, the first item on his retirement agenda is world-travel. He says that while he has traveled a lot he was so busy looking after Presidents that he didn't see much.

Rowley, a husky 185-pounder, who conceals his inner tensions behind a mask of seeming imperturbability and never raises his voice, has been directly concerned with the protection of Presidents Roosevelt, Truman, Eisen-

WALKED WITH TRUMAN

Rowley was President Truman's companion on most of the former President's 6 a.m. walks when he was in the White House. Rowley was fond of Truman but he was relieved when he discovered that President Eisenhower, while an early riser, preferred to do his walking on the golf course, usually late in the afternoon.

President Roosevelt kept Rowley on the move away from home more than any other President he served under. He recalls that in one year early in the Second World War, when the President was inspecting defense plants, he spent only 93 days in Washington.

Rowley remembers as one of his toughest assignments President Eisenhower's Asian trip. In New Delhi, Manila and Korea, he and his agents were almost crushed to death by the press of well-wishers eager to get close to the visiting President.

A native of New York, Rowley earned his way through St. John's University in Brooklyn, working as a bank investigator at night. He joined the FBI in 1937 and transferred to the Secret Service in 1938.

RESERVES MAN SWIFT STRIKE CARGO PLANES

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Heavy cargo planes thundered regularly into the Darlington, S.C., airport today in a gigantic supply operation of joint Army-Air Force Exercise Swift Strike.

A majority of the cargo and fighter support aircraft were manned by Air Reservists and Air National Guardsmen, many of whom already have been alerted for possible recall for active duty in the tense Berlin situation.

That, plus close observation of the quick-striking abilities of the Strategic Army Corps (STRAC), made the exercise doubly important.

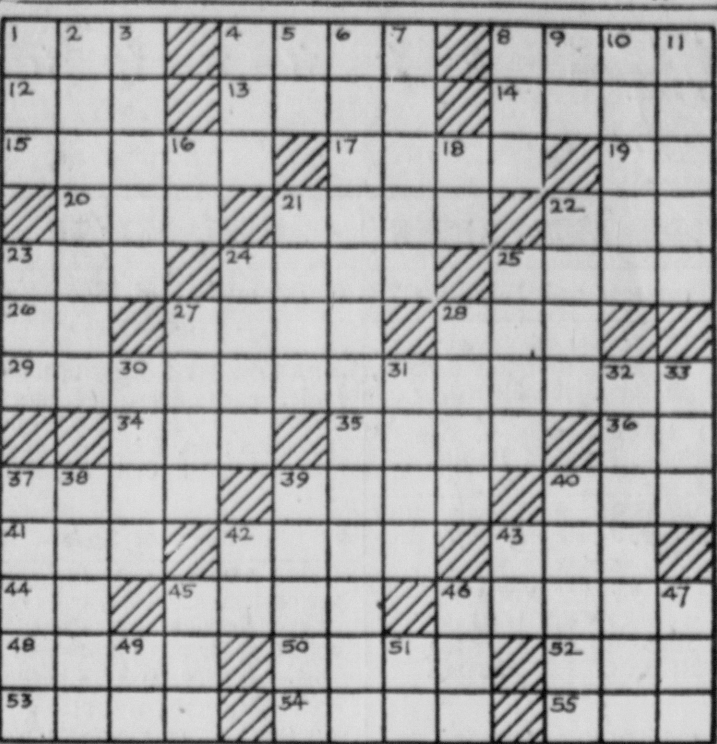

The job of the Air Force was to furnish air cover and bring supplies to the 82nd Airborne Division which dropped 4,100 men and their equipment near Camden, S.C., Monday in what ranking officers called a near-perfect operation.

The exercise is being held in an eight-county area of North Carolina and South Carolina stretching 100 miles south-eastward from this military reservation.

The 82nd, one of three crack STRAC divisions, is acting as a United States force sent to a theoretical small foreign country which has been invaded by unfriendly forces.

Deaf Man Perfects Midget Transistor Hearing Aid

If you can hear people talk and can't make out the words clearly then this will be your answer. An extremely small hearing aid, using a tiny energized unit, has been perfected by a man who himself is hard of hearing and has been for over 20 years. With his new aid, even whispers are crystal clear and your closest friends will never know how you hear so perfectly. If interested it is suggested you write HEARING, P. O. Box 8302, Erie, Pa. EXPERTS ASK "TAMED DOWN" U. S. ROCKETS

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) — "Tamed down" space rockets that will allow man to be a driver instead of a rider were advocated to a group of the nation's top space scientists meeting Monday at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The 30 per cent failure rate of the Atlas booster rocket, used to launch the Mercury astronauts into orbit, could be reduced if the man in the space capsule had control of his space vehicle, said research scientist George S. Schairer of Boeing Aircraft's Seattle, Wash., division.

Schairer predicted future space men will fly their booster rockets in much the same way that planes are flown today.

TAMED DOWN

To accomplish this the rockets will have to be "tamed down a little bit" to where man will have time to react to changes in the behavior of the rocket and to make whatever corrections are necessary, he said.

This means redesigning the rocket to increase its stability in flight to the point where manual control is feasible. Today's rockets, for example, have a tendency to turn end over end, and a correction for this requires micro-second timing that only a machine can do.

With a man in control of a properly designed space vehicle, Schairer believes that something could be done about guidance failure and power failure, the two main causes of trouble in the Atlas now.

Schairer's remarks were made at a conference on space problems and research co-sponsored by the National Science Foundation and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.
